DOINGS OF OFFICIAL SET

Summer Plans of Those Who Are at the Seashore and in the Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley are entertaining a house party at their country place, Arcadia Farms, on Alexandria Bay, in the Thousand Islands. Among their guests from Washington are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Westcott, who will leave tomorrow to return to York Harbor, where they are passing the summer with Mrs. Westcott's mother, Mrs. John R. Rodgers.

Mrs. Roscoe Bulmer, who has been with her mother, Mrs. John C. Poor, at her cottage, Flat Rocks, at Narragansett Pier, will arrive at the Farms today to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley. Capt. and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, who are passing the season with Mrs. Gibbons' mother, Mrs. Richard Ely, at Avon, Conn., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley since last Saturday.

Miss Cora Barry left Washington yesterday for Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. David Barry, her mother, will leave next week for Jamestown, where she will remain until fall. Mr. Barry is in New York.

Mrs. Robert U. Patterson has returned to Washington from Atlantic City, where she spent a fortnight. Major and Mrs. Patterson left Washington last night to spend the weekend in Virginia.

Mrs. Gillett Home.

Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett has joined Congressman Gillett at their residence in Eighteenth street after an absence of several weeks. She was an interested spectator at the Republican national convention in Chicago and attended the commencement exercises at Westover School, from which her daughter, Miss Louise Hor, was graduated. Later Mrs. Gillett and her two daughters, Miss Frances Hor and Miss Louise Hor, went to Cambridge, Mass., for the commencement exercises at Harvard University, to New London, Conn., for boat races, and made a series of visits in Massachusetts. After a week or two in Washington, Mrs. Gillett will return to Massachusetts for the remainder of the summer.

Clifford Whyte left Washington this morning for Atlantic City, where he will spend a few days.

Mrs. James L. Pugh and her daughters, Miss Mary Pugh and Miss Serena Pugh, are spending the summer in Allentown, Pa.

Off for Eastern Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McConneaney left Washington last night for the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where they will remain about a month.

Andrew Peters, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who has been with his family in Norfolk, Va., will return to Washington on August 7.

Mrs. Lloyd Bowers arrived in Long Branch, N. J., today to be the guest of Congressman and Mrs. Thomas G. Patten.

Miss Martha C. Codman was hostess at a luncheon yesterday in Newport.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Wells are spending the weekend in Oakland, Md., where they went to see the ruins of the old city of Baltimore. Miss Marion Wells, who is spending the summer there.

Frank Scofield Marries.

A wedding of interest to Washingtonians took place yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark Scofield, U. S. A., of this city, and Miss Dorothy Hayes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Douglas Hayes, were married at the bride's home in Tracy City, Tenn.

The Hayes home was beautifully decorated with flowers, vines, and ferns. In the doorway hung a basket of many colorful flowers. The altar of the drawing room, which had been arranged as a chapel, the aisle was made through a wall of tall ferns, whose fronds touched the floor. The altar of vines and lilies was arranged in a bow window. Hundreds of pink roses and a profusion of pink taffeta streamers were used throughout the house.

The bride entered the room with her father, who gave her away. She wore a gown of white tulle with touches of pink. She wore her veil in the old-fashioned way, falling from her head to foot and covering the entire costume. The veil was a pearl pink illusion and was caught at the top by a diamond spray. Her bouquet was a shower of white roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Carl Roberts, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and wore an artistic gown of lace. The maid of honor, Miss Hazel Henderson, wore a beautiful costume of pink taffeta combined with chiffon. Both carried bouquets of pink roses.

Carl Roberts, Lieutenant Scofield's best man, and little Miss Caroline Roberts was flower girl. The ceremony of the Episcopal church was read by Dr. W. T. Dubose, of Sewanee, Tenn., and before during the ceremony a charming musical program was rendered. A violin solo was played by Morgan Sansom, accompanied by Mrs. Norvell, and Miss Hazel Henderson sang "Because." During the ceremony Mrs. Norvell played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Lieut. and Mrs. Scofield are now in Washington visiting the family of the bridegroom's father, who is assistant chief clerk of the War Department. Lieut. Scofield was a graduate of Western High School of this city, and a former officer of the regiment of the High School Cadets.

To Visit West Point.

After a brief visit in Washington, Lieut. and Mrs. Scofield will visit Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. T. H. Osborne at West Point. Lieut. Scofield is a graduate of the Military Academy, and it was at West Point that he met his bride, Mrs. Scofield, the granddaughter of the late J. C. Wrenne. Among the guests attending the marriage were Colonel and Mrs. Shook, Gen. Edwin D. Price, Mrs. E. L. Hampton, Miss Hampton, Mrs. Horace Bowers, Miss Hazel Henderson, Mr. Hadley, Dr. and Mrs. Hudson, Mr. E. M. Wrenne, and Mrs. Wrenne, and Miss Willa Dromgoole, of Nashville; Mrs. G. L. Wrenne and Miss Lizzie Cooper, of Monticello, Md.; Mrs. E. L. Beaudry, of Memphis, Tenn.; and Mr. Leo Beard, of Memphis, Tenn. Lieut. Scofield is a graduate of Western High School of this city, and a former officer of the regiment of the High School Cadets.
